Obituary

Member associations

World Archery regrets to inform of the passing of Korean Archery Association Vice President Hwang Doha, who died of lung cancer at the age of 63.

Secretary General from the Olympics in 1984 until 2004, Hwang Doha coordinated an international team that won a minimum of two gold medals at six different editions of the Games. He became Vice President of the Association in 2005. He was recently in Rio supporting the Korean athletes that collected all four gold medals.

Judges

It is with sadness that World Archery was informed of the passing of Dionisio "Bob" Flores, who died on 10 October 2016 at the age of 93 in his hometown of Dumaguete City, Negros Oriental, Philippines.

Mr Flores was a former World Archery International Judge and Honorary Judge, former Vice President of the National Archery Association of the Philippines, national coach and Silliman University coach.

Events

Wroclaw 2017

The recent Dublin 2016 World Archery Field Championships acted as the main quota tournament for the field archery competition at the Wroclaw 2017 World Games, which is open to barebow and recurve athletes.

As host country, Poland received a place in each of the categories – while the winners of the four categories in Dublin also locked down a place.

The remaining 10 places in each category (12 compete at the World Games) were distributed to the nations with the highest ranked archers at the competition in Dublin, up to a maximum of one per country, except for Poland and the nationality of the world champion, which could secure a second spot.

Auckland 2017

Registration is still open for World Masters Games 2017, which will be held in Auckland, New Zealand from 21 to 30 April 2017. The Games focus is on 'sport for all' and offers the largest ever number of para sport events as part of the Games, including para archery (with limited places remaining).

Athletes with an existing national or international classification are eligible to compete, with support provided for new athletes seeking a provisional classification to compete in the Games only. For more information, please visit the para sport section of the World Masters Games 2017 website at:

Education

Level 1 coach trainer course

Chinese Taipei, one of the leading countries in international archery, has trained 12 of its coaches to educate archery coaches for beginners.

The World Archery Excellence Centre in Lausanne also sent two coaches to the course in Taipei, which was conducted by World Archery Development and Education Director Development Pascal Colmaire, assisted by Terriss Chooi, a Certified Level 1 Coach Trainer from Singapore.

The sharing of know-how in coaching education and archery coaching at the entry level has enriched each participant. This project was held at the National Institute of Sport from which the CEO is Peter Chiu, a well-known and dedicated archery officer.

Elite Youth Programme

Peru

World Archery Coach Ivan Yotov visited Peru on a one-month mission as part of the Youth Archery Development Programme that has been going on in the Americas for four years. Peru is a priority for World Archery Americas, as the next Pan American Games will be held in its capital, Lima, in 2019.

The Peruvian Archery Federation values Coach Yotov's assistance very highly. Some of the most important results of this visit are related with establishing standardised training systems, bow tuning, and technical enhancement, among other areas.

Colombia

The mission in Colombia started on 29 October and will continue until 28 November in Medellin. More than twenty cadet and junior archers and their coaches from several clubs across the country are taking part in this training camp.

From 10-14 November all participants – including Coach Yotov – will travel to the city of Pereira to participate in Colombia’s last National Championships in 2016.

Members

Djibouti

The Certified Level 2 Coach Trainer Carlos Freitas went to Djibouti from 8-22 October to assist the new World Archery member association to start their activities in Djibouti.

The enthusiastic local team shows a great potential and did very well in the promotion with press and TV coverage, come-and-try sessions, and meetings with national sport governing bodies.

The Archery Federation of Djibouti extended its efforts after the course by meeting the President of the country who showed its interest for our sport. The President of World Archery Africa has also contributed with financial support to this project.

Liberia

After the first training with the military forces held in Liberia a year ago, this year’s training concerned the different categories of the police and associates. The World Archery Development Agent in West Africa conducted this mission.

The participant produced wooden arrows, 34 PVC bows, targets from cardboard, target faces, among others, and learnt the basics of archery before a competition was finally held.

During the closing ceremony, the Secretary General of the Liberian National Olympic Committee announced that an Olympic Solidarity course would be held for 2017.
